Recognise the Conversion Pitch

Fear is not proof. Affection is not a contract.

Read the case record

Preserve the source's attribution and the scope of its reported court outcome.

Examine the fear appeal

The pir compared her present pain with threatened hellfire; Siddiqui says she was then directed to recite the Kalma.

Read. Question. Answer. Read the complete article. Follow the sources. Put the answer into your own words.

Read the complete argument and sources
rashtrajyoti.com/inside-the-mind-kalim-siddiqui/

Illustrations dramatise the argument; dialogue is not a quotation from the people reported. 1/2

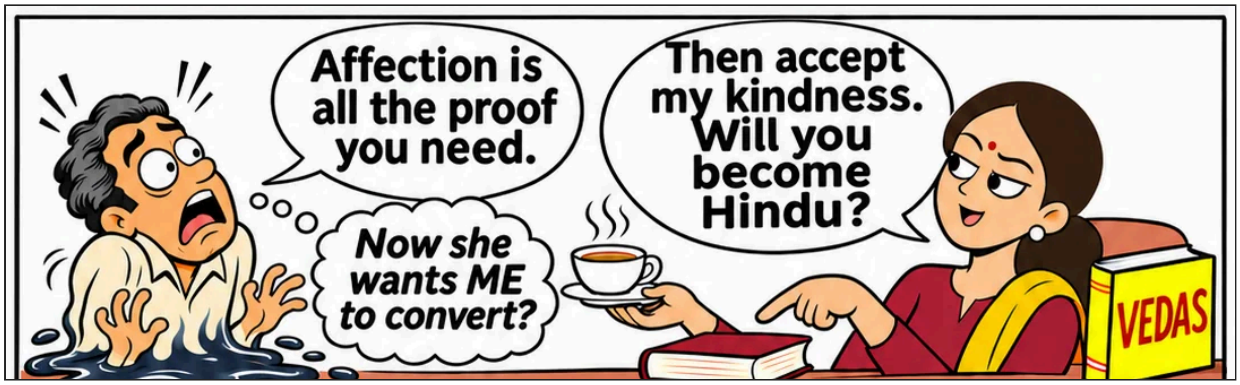

Recognise the Conversion Pitch

Keep the answer ready.

Separate warmth from assent

The account connects the word “brother” and affection with the invitation to convert.

Keep evidence and accusation straight

This preserves the article’s report without enlarging it.

Now use it. Recognise the pressure, ask the decisive question and keep the evidence when reporting an actual incident.

Read the complete argument and sources
rashtrajyoti.com/inside-the-mind-kalim-siddiqui/

Illustrations dramatise the argument; dialogue is not a quotation from the people reported. 2/2